HIGHLIGHTS OF FALL 1977 ENROLLMENTS IN NEW JERSEY

Over 9,000 more students were attending New Jersey colleges and universities this fall than one year ago. Final figures show that the Opening Fall Enrollment for 1977 was 299,907, an increase of 3.2% over 1976. Total undergraduate enrollment increased 2.5% over last year, while the graduate and first-professional total increased nearly three times as much (6.9%).

 Includes Princeton and Seton Hall

As shown in the above table, New Jersey's overall enrollment growth is in line with the national trend. Nationally, the increase at independent colleges was greater than at the public institutions, (3.9% and 3.1% respectively), while the opposite occurred in New Jersey with public college enrollment increasing by 3.8% compared to a 1.1% increase at the independent colleges.

D.H.E. RESEARCH NOTES

New Jersey Community Colleges enrolled a total of 95,926 students in Fall 1977, an increase of 3.8% over 1976. The 54,624 part-time enrollees accounted for most of the growth. The Community Colleges accounted for about one-third of the total statewide enrollment increase between 1976 and 1977.

In Fall 1977, total enrollment (undergraduate, graduate, full-time, and part-time combined) increased at the four-year public colleges. This growth returns to the trend of previous years after a decline that occurred between 1975 and 1976.

State Colleges undergraduate enrollments (full-time and part-time) rose slightly (0.6%) this fall, while graduate enrollments increased 11.9% from 13,482 in 1976 to 15,083 in 1977.

At Rutgers, undergraduate enrollments rose 5.4% over last year. This resulted primarily from an increase of 7.0% in the number of full-time undergraduates. Of the three Rutgers campuses only Newark experienced a decrease in total enrollment (down 0.7%), primarily due to a decrease in part-time ebrollments. Graduates enrollments, however, grew by 6.1%.

At the four-year independent colleges undergraduate enrollments have remained virtually constant during the three-year period between 1975 to 1977. (Full-time undergraduate enrollments decreased only 0.3% between 1976 and 1977 while part-time enrollments increased 1.3%). Graduate enrollments rose 2.8% over last year. This resulted from a 4.2% increase in part-time students which offset a 0.9% decrease in full-time students.

The marked percentage increase in full-time graduate and first-professional enrollments at Rutgers University Graduate School at Camden was due to growth (2 to 13 students) in their new program - Business Administration. Similary, at Upsala College the sharp percentage increase in full-time graduate and first-professional enrollments was due to growth (4 to 24 students) in a new program, Personnel Counseling.
